Jeff Elementary May Ask Voters OK On $2,500,000 Loan For Buildings

COUNTY AND STATE AUTHORITIES QUERY WESTMOOR HIGH PLANS

Both county and state authorities have questioned the advisability of constructing Westmoor High school under the present plans, THE RECORD learned today. A motion by Trustee Raymond Whitney that the Jefferson Union High school board call in county authorities to give their opinion on the controversial plans died for want of a second at Monday night's meeting.

On November 28 Whitney asked that Westmoor plans, drawn by Architect Mario Ciampi, be redrawn. The request was backed by Laguna Salada trustees, Mrs. Vivian Schember and Don Miller, and North Coastside Businessmen's association President Willard Petersen at Monday's meeting.

When asked by THE RECORD whether the state and county do disapprove Ciampi's plans as declared at the board meet, Whitney was able to produce copies of two letters to the architect. Both advised that the district consider planning from a "long range" standpoint.

First letter to Ciampi is from Paul Rivers, supervising field representative, department of school planning, Sacramento, and dated August 20, 1954.

"May Be In Trouble"

Rivers asked that Ciampi and the district be advised that "if more than 120,000 square feet are planned for this site, and if eventual enrollment is not kept at 1500, the district may be in trouble if it should have to come to the state for a loan for a third and succeeding high school."

Third district high school is planned for Sharp Park. Site has been purchased, and Ciampi has been retained as architect for the project.

Second letter, also to Ciampi and from Al Glantz, consultant for school planning, county superintendent's office, San Mateo county, is dated October 21, 1954.

Glantz states that "our (county) studies seem to indicate that this district will not long be able to finance its own program, therefore all unnecessary areas should be receiving very careful study at

Lowest Bid On Westmoor 'Hi Is $2,358,255

Low bid of $2,358,255 for construction of Westmoor High school by Theo. G. Meyer & Sons was submitted at Monday night's meeting of the Jefferson Union High school board. Meyer, low bidder at the first opening of Westmoor bids on November 14, is the company that submitted their proposal after the 8 p.m. deadline.

Although Meyer raised its offer by $11,314 over its November 14 bid, the proposal still fell more than $85,000 under the second lowest bid submitted at the first opening. Thus, making a second call for bids rather than accepting the November 14 second lowest proposal, proved a smart move by trustees.

Further delay in the high school construction was deemed necessary by the district attorney's office because the Westmoor site is adjacent to property now involved in a law suit by Developer Chris McKeon. Trustees were advised to postpone decision on accepting Westmoor bid until next Monday night.

Other proposals for the high school included: Rothschild, Raffin & Weirick, $2, 370,260; Barrett Construction, $2,433,852; Karl N. Swenson, $2,438,700; and E. H. Moore, $2,700,000.

On the motion of Mrs. Mildred McGeein, the board aproved rejecting all bids for the administration building, which were submitted on November 14.

TWO ACCIDENTS IN 3 MINUTES ON BOULEVARD

Two persons were injured Thursday in a three-car crack-up on Junipero Serra boulevard that was followed by an unrelated accident three minutes later less than half a mile south on the boulevard.

California Highway Patrol reports on the accident were not available at press time, but Junipero Serra hospital reported two persons injured in the 91st-Junipero Serra mishap. They were: Leonore Flatland, 27, of 331 Darrell road, Burlingame, a fractured collarbone; and Donald Collins, 27, of 125 Zeta street, South San Francisco, bruises on the knee and head. Miss Flatland was transferred to her own physician, while Collins was released following treatment.

Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage said the accident in which the two persons were injured involved a three-car smash-up on Junipero Serra near 91st avenue at 12:20 p.m.

Three minutes later police were notified of a second mishap on Junipero Serra in front of the Colonial Drive-In. Two cars were said to have been involved in this accident, but no injuries were reported.

City Custodian Firing Upheld By DC Board

Civil Service board of review unanimously upheld the firing of city custodian Sam Valentino, it was learned at Monday night's council meeting.

In a letter to the council, the board said that charges against Valentino had been substantiated as a result of public hearing held November 23. The letter further said that the board concurred with action of Recreation Director James Mason in dismissing Valentino November 3 from his job as custodian at Daly City community center.

Valentino, 49, had been discharged for refusing an order by Mason to help carry garbage cans from the center building to the street. Several charges were filed against Valentino. Among them were "his disturbing influence on other employees, bickering, and failure to enforce the law at the community center prohibiting liquor in the building."

The board of review absolved Valentino of the last charge, stating there was no evidence to indicate the employee had openly encouraged or even allowed liquor on the premises. In the hearing,

Seek Funds For Future

Jefferson Elementary School district voters will go to the polls February 28 and decide whether to authorize the district to borrow some $2,500,000 from the state under Chapter 19 funds.

This was decided tentativcly by the board Wednesday night, although final decision was put over to next Wednesday.

The board first considered asking the district taxpayers to authorize a state loan of $1,258,190, which would provide funds to complete Vista Grande, Vista Del Mar and Palisades schools, but Trustee Hartley Appleton suggested this be revised upward to take care of any building beyond the Palisades project.

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel explained the district's financial status as follows: In February, 1953, the voters approved borrowing $910,000 from the state. Out of this $480,000 is being spent for Benjamin Franklin, $52,000 for Vista Grande, leaving a balance of approximately $430,000.

New Projects

New projects now being planned will cost the district $1,688,190, he continued, meaning that $1,258,000 is needed from the state to fulfill requirements.

Appleton said, "$1,258,000 won't even start to get us on our way. Let's go for enough to take care of everything. We should lay it on the line for the taxpayers and let them know what they're in for. I suggest $2,500,00."

David Shapiro, district business manager, said Appleton's suggestion of asking for $2,500,000 was "sound, providing the people understand what you're asking for."

Pay 26c Now

The district currently pays 26 cents out of its $1.55 per $100 tax rate to repay state loans already made. Re-payments to the state on Chapter 19 loans are made on a basis of ability to pay, and if the district is impoverished, a moratorium can be placed on the loan.

A member of the audience, Howard Richardson, said, "I cringe at the thought of this $2,500,000 figure. That'll be another 50 cents on the tax rate."

Appleton snapped, "No, it won't. It's a loan."

Richardson argued, however, that it would inevitably result

Health Site Cost Held County Duty

The Town Record

By MONTE DAYTON

Observers would have been taken aback Monday night to see councilmen and other city officials leaving the chambers, each with a gay-colored orchid clutched in their hands.

No, the council wasn't pursuing horticulture, merely taking home samples of the flowers that nurseryman R. I. McCLELLAN claims have been damaged by smog from Daly City's garbage burning site.

Among the proud bearers of an orchid Monday was one of the members of DC Scavenger Co., who supposedly are the culprits who are damaging the flowers with their burning operation.

DOROTHY PAULSEN, secretary to the Jeff Hi superintendent, was victimized two weeks ago by car boosters, who looted her vehicle while it was parked in front of the high school.

San Mateo county should supply its own site for a north county welfare clinic, a special citizens committee decided Wednesday in a meeting at Daly City hall.

On the other issue up for discussion, construction of a $1,000,000 hospital, the committee turned the matter over to the state to determine actual need for such a facility here.

The committee, headed by Councilman Del Wilson and made up of Peter Markovich, Arthur Bodien, Ricco Lagomarsino, William Fitzpatrick, Jack Kendree, A. R. Linn, City Manager Howard Stites and Fred Collins of the county health department, deliberated for two hours on the problem of health facilities for northern San Mateo county.

Pursue Actively

Concensus was to pursue actively a program to gain a county welfare clinic here, but the committee agreed purchase of a site was the county's obligation, since Daly City citizens already contribute more than their share of taxes to provide county medical services in the unincorporated areas.

"Such services come under the category of public health and are

324 Kids Get Second Salk Polio Shot Here

A slightly lower turnout of 324 children showed up at the county health center in Daly City Saturday for their second Salk polio booster shot. When the inoculations were first given last June 374 first and second grade youngsters reported.

The vaccine was administered under the county health department program and will be the last shot given under the county's jurisdiction.

Parents who wish to have their children receive a third injection, the recommended number for immunity, will have to have their children inoculated by a private physician, county sources said.

Recipients of the vaccine Saturday were second and third grade children from northern San Mateo county.

Sixteen women volunteers, headed by Mrs. Vi Murphy, aided the health department in administrating the shots and keeping records.

Fee, Time Schedule For New Westlake Clubhouse Adopted

Fees and time schedule for the recently-opened Westlake clubhouse were discussed by the recreation commission at their meeting Tuesday night.

It was tentatively decided that Friday and Saturday would be left open for teen-age activities and adult groups, while Thursday night would be reserved for Cub Scouts. The schedule will be operated on a trial basis for the first six months.

The following fee schedule was adopted: Affairs where an admission charge is made, $25; private club parties, no admission, $12.50; deposit for use of kitchen, $5.

Because of the "unprecedented demand" for the building, the commission denied application for use of the facility for a nursery school program, according to James Mason, recreation director.

Meeting rooms at the war memorial community center were discussed and it was agreed that plans should be studied at the next meeting. Work is scheduled to start in early 1956.

Mason announced that Christmas parties would be held December 21 at the Serra and Daly City Theaters. On the same day a band concert will be held in the eve-

Judge Again Continues Hilltop Lodge Appeal

Hilltop Lodge appeal of the revocation of its liquor license has again been continued by Superior Court Judge Edmund Scott. New date is December 15.

The judge explained that he has not yet completed the reading of the lengthy board of equalization hearing transcripts.

LARGER NORTH END MUNI COURT DISTRICT URGED

A boundary shift in the county's three municipal court districts aimed at equalizing the work load on the judges was proposed this week by Supervisor Thomas Callan Sr. of Colma.

Callan, appointed a committee of one by the supervisors Tuesday to secure opinions on the proposal from the four municipal judges, said, "If the two Redwood City judges have too much work, some of it ought to be given to the

SALK VACCINE SHOTS SCHEDULED SATURDAY

Children who did not receive their second shot of Salk polio vaccine last Saturday may receive injections this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at 225 - 37th avenue, San Mateo.

The county health department urges all parents whose youngsters failed to receive the booster shot to take advantage of this opportunity. Eligible children are those first and second graders who received the first shot in schools last Spring.

Of 2100 county children eligible for the vaccine, only 689 reported

Northgate Council Post Seems Highly Unpopular

Councilman job in the proposed city of Northgate proved itself highly unpopular last week.

County Clerk John Bruning announced that no one had filed nomination before the deadline of Thursday noon. If the election for incorporation on January 24 proves successful, write-in candidates will be seated, Bruning said.

Chuck Terry Wins Award For Rescue

Daly City Police Officer Charles Terry will be presented with the first class meritorious conduct award at the annual dinner dance of the Peninsula Peace Officers association in April, it was announced today.

The association awards committee, of which David Hansen, local police sergeant is a member, approved Terry's name at Tuesday's meeting.

Terry will be given a diploma, trophy and maple leaf insignia for "extreme heroism in the rescue of a young boy from the surf."

The officer, who is 31 years old, lives at 152 San Bruno avenue.

Claim 250 Orchids Ruined, Ask Halt To Dump Burning

A request to stop all dump burning until at least after the Christmas season was forwarded to the city council Monday night by R. I. McLellan of McLellan Nurseries south of Colma.

According to McLellan, more than 250 orchid blooms were destroyed in a single day by fumes from the Daly City Scavengers garbage burning on the Zanone Land.

Along with his plea for a temporary end to the burning, McLellan forwarded a large box containing some 30 orchids allegedly damaged by the smoke.

City Manager Howard Stites directed the council's attention to the darkened portions of the flowers, the sepals, which McLellan claims is caused by the gaseous

BANISH DOGS BY MONDAY, COURT TELLS DC WOMAN

Caasie Heller, 1020 Brunswick street, was ordered Tuesday by Municipal Judge Thomas L. Bocci to get rid of her dogs by Monday or face a 30-day jail sentence.

The charge: Failure to abate a public nuisance.

On March 30 of this year complaint was filed against Mrs. Heller, charging that her dogs bit and molested persons in the neighborhood.

At that time Bocci placed the woman on two years probation and decreed that she should keep her dogs out of Daly City for two years.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Heller and her animal friends returned to Daly City. Since she had failed to observe terms of her probation, according to Bocci, sentence was levied on the original offense.

Mrs. Heller has been ordered to appear in court Monday and prove beyond a reasonable doubt to the court that her dogs have been banished from Daly City. Daly City police department has been asked to see that this order is consummated.

Ryan served as Colma chief for seven years. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of the State Peace Officers association.

Board Awaits Transcript On County Chief Censure

County grand jury this week added a list of new charges against County Manager Robert Stallings and the board of supervisors postponed their scheduled hearing Tuesday until the supervisors have an opportunity to study the transcript of testimony before the jury.

Five more projects were questioned by the county grand jury in a new list of charges filed with the board Tuesday just as their hearing was getting underway.

At the jury's request, hearing was postponed so supervisors can read the transcripts of testimony by Stallings and other officials made before the fact-finding body.

New Criticisms

The new criticisms of Stallings actions included an efficiency study of the county health department, hiring of a personal friend for a survey in 1951, leaky roof at the county tuberculosis sanitarium, a county five-year progress report, and the planning and construction of the county's new hall of justice.

Last week the jury presented a resolution to the board asking censure of Stallings and recommended the board even go to the extent of firing him if the charges justified it.

The original censure was based mainly on Stallings practice during the years 1951-53 of awarding contracts in amounts over $2000 without advertising for public bids as required by the state government code.

"Motives Clear"

Stallings last week attributed the jury's action to "behind the scenes disgruntled politicos and he reiterated this feeling this week when he said, "The motives behind this action are more clear than ever. I'm surprised they didn't want to know whether I had clean socks on today."

Four of the county supervisors have already lined up behind Stall-

Double Sessions Group Questions School Board

Contract document for construction of the $709,000 Benjamin Franklin school additions was signed by Jefferson Elementary School district board of trustees Wednesday but prospect of the project's completion in January, 1957, did not satisfy some 35 citizens in the audience.

Most of the 35 persons crowding the administration offices at 48 Park Plaza were members of a citizens committee studying double sessions.

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, in explaining his estimate that all children would be off double sessions on completion of Benjamin Franklin, said there were now 420 children on the split schedule. "We're a lot better off than many districts," he said. "We now have 150 classrooms taking care of 4900 children. With the 25 classrooms completed at Ben Franklin, I think it's safe to say that in the future no child should be on double sessions more than one year out of his school career."

Appleton Disagrees

Trustee Hartley Appleton, however, said he did not concur with Weibel's statements of adequate facilities. "Actually you've got 800 students in inadequate housing in this district. I don't agree with this policy of sitting on our hands."

"It seems to me," said Thomas Jenkins, president of James L. Snell PTA, that under projected growth we'll have 500 more children next year. If Benjamin Franklin takes care of 750 of ings in newspaper statements, while Supervisor Thomas Callan Sr. of Colma has withheld any decision until reading the transcript and "getting the full facts."

According to Callan, it was he who brought about the postponment so that transcript could be reviewed at a public hearing.

Letter Returns

Sunday night Callan sent a sealed letter to the board chairman William Werder asking for the entire transcript of the grand jury proceedings. The supervisor said he sent the letter through the county sheriff's office, but somehow it got routed back to his own mail slot at the supervisors office. It was still sealed, but Callan indicated he felt the letter had been opened and read.

"The next thing I know they decide to postpone the hearing and make it public," Callan said.

Callan's letter to the board opened with the statement that, "I am in receipt of an unsigned memorandum dated December 1, requesting my presence to discuss a personnel matter at 9 a.m. this Tuesday. . . . I wish to remind you that I have never attended nor do I ever intend to do so now, a 'secret' meeting to discuss matters of interest to the public."

Tuesday:

1. Karl Earnest Day of San Francisco was found guilty of drunk driving in Daly City on September 11 and was sentenced to 60 days or $300, with 10 day stay to pay the fine. His drivers license was ordered suspended.

2. Richard Peter Rempel, 526 Popular, San Bruno, appeared on a charge of felony grand theft and had his preliminary hearing set for December 22.

The complainant, Volume Auto Sales, 7276 Mission street, Daly City, alleges that Remple stole an auto from them on November 26. Rempel is out on $500 bail. The court appointed Thomas Gallen to act as counsel for the accused.

3. Lloyd Gregory of San Francisco pleaded guilty to being drunk in and about an automobile Sunday night on Wildwood avenue in Broadmoor. Sentence was 10 day or $50.

San Francisco had the nation's first underground garage—Union square.

smoke from the garbage dump.

"I think this is further justification to press for immediate acquisition of a fill and cover dump site," said Stites.

Councilman Sanford Vickers asked if the garbage couldn't be stockpiled until after the nurseries busy holiday season, but a member of the Scavenger company present pointed out that if the garbage accumulated in huge quantities, chances of spontaneous combusion were high.

Stites suggested that the burning be limited to times when the wind is blowing toward the ocean.

"We'll just do the best we can," said Mayor Joseph Verducci, referring to the city's negotiations for purchase of a fill and cover disposal site on the coast.

Auto Smashes Into Daly City Greenhouse

Neil W. Halvorsen, 25, 517½ Cortland avenue, San Francisco, was booked at the county jail on a charge of drunk driving after his car rammed into a greenhouse at 53 West Cavour street Saturday.

Witnesses saw the car plunge 15 feet into the greenhouse, but Halvorsen, found near the scene, told California Highway patrolmen that he was not driving the car. He said a friend was driving but refused to name the culprit.

Despite his claim, Halvorsen was booked and released on $250 bail.

WE CAN COUNT ITS BLESSINGS

Once a year, at Christmas time, the local St. Vincent De Paul society makes a public appeal for funds and goods to aid Daly City's needy families.

In addition to their current fund-raising drive, they are spearheading the campaign here to obtain and fix up toys for children of parents in financial straits.

A total of 58 Daly City families, including 200 youngsters, is now on the society's list to receive Christmas gifts.

While their identity will be concealed to protect these unfortunate persons, all Daly City can be satisfied that this is a charity that really begins at home.

Daly City actually has no other large organizations to organize and follow through on a drive of the type now being conducted.

While the Guardsmen, Saints and Sinners and other kindred groups will openly accept support of Daly City residents in their fund drives, they are wholly reluctant to expend any of these funds for Daly City needy.

When a local group attempted to get summer camperships for its children, they were politely told that being outside of San Francisco county, they could not expect to participate in the program.

Therefore, the St. Vincent De Paul society stands as the only group which can carry the burden of providing for the needy in our immediate midst, regardless of race, color or creed.

Only funds received are from the church poor box, monthly church door collection and from charitably minded people who are cognizant of the unheralded group's work.

Necessarily, the society's work is done without fanfare and publicity to protect the names of those in distress.

As Christmas time approaches, the society finds their funds and facilities inadequate to cope with the great number of legitimate hardship eases.

We would like to call on citizens to support in every way at their disposal and to aid and perpetuate the cause of the society—a Daly City charity that begins and stays at home where we can see its blessings.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

ODDS AND ENDS . . . We've had a hard time getting going on this week's column. Maybe it's the Thanksgiving holiday we spent in Yosemite, watching the bears come by the cabin at all hours day or night. Maybe it's the approaching Christmas season, or maybe it's just plain laziness. Whatever it is, we accomplished very little last week. Result: here it is Sunday, absolute deadline and no column.

We managed to get out Christmas cards selected last week. We also yielded to temptation and bought the new RCA Victor recording of "Aida" (yes, yes, we know, we're against the war horse operas, but this recording's different!) We also began MacKinlay Kantor's "Andersonville," but got only as far as page 16, so we can't base our column on it.

Gordon Recital

Oh' yes, we attended Marcus Gordon's piano recital at the Veterans Memorial last Wednesday, with the thought in mind of getting some idea of the quality of the concert that he and his wife will present in Daly City next March. We found him to be a flawless musician who interpreted with a sure tions as three sonatas by D. Scarlatti and an amusing trifle by Milhaud. Best of all, Gordon's program was selected for the audience that enjoys the unfamiliar. To judge by last Wednesday night, that audience is a large one.

THE OPERA RING continues to go round and round with "Threepenny Opera." You may remember that two or three weeks ago we warned you that you were about to lose what might be your only chance in twenty-five years to hear Kurt Weill's masterpiece. Well, we're delighted to hear that the reception given this gem has been such that its run has been extended indefinitely. It is now the longest running theatrical production currently playing in San Francisco.

Creates Furor

When it was first produced back in the late Twenties in Germany, it created such a furor among the musical conservatives that students rioted and stoned the theater where it was playing. Since then, it has had thousands of performances and has received both critical and popular acclaim. It sure would be a pity if you miss this opportunity to hear it. Performances every Friday and Saturday night at 8:40 p.m. at 123 South Van Ness.

"TWELFTH NIGHT" opens at the Theatre Arts on Washington Street, Friday, December 9. Advance word is that the costumes, designed and executed by Richard Triplett, will be a highpoint of the production. Anne Soule, familiar to followers of the Strawhatters, has composed an original score for this Abbott-Abrams production of the Bard's comedy which was written to be acted at the Twelfth Night festivities.

As in the past, Theatre Arts will present performances only, closing for the holidays with a final performance Sunday evening, December 18. "Twelfth Night" will reopen on Twelfth Night, January 5.

"ELVES" in Mrs. Gloria Medzian's first grade class read silently while she takes a look at the remainder of her 32 children who are busy with other subjects at their desks. Youngsters are divided into three groups, "Fairies," "Elves," and "Bombers," according to their reading ability. A visit to Mrs. Medzian's class constitutes the first of a series, "What Do They Learn," now appearing in THE RECORD.

What Do They Learn?

PRIMARY LAYS THE FOUNDATION

Teachers of primary grades in the Jefferson Elementary school district seek to prepare children for the higher grade levels and for life, if the first grade class of Mrs. Gloria Medzian at Westlake school is any example. Even when the youngsters appear to be playing, in reality they are learning.

Mrs. Medzian's 32 children begin the day with a flag salute, a song and a prayer. When questioned whether she had ever received any complanits about the use of prayers in the classroom, the teacher replied in the negative.

"The prayer we use is very general and has been approved by the superintendent," she explained. Mrs. Medzian continued that she prompts children of every faith to explain their religious holidays.

Next on the day's schedule was the "Share and Tell" period, when children bring their toys or animals or tell of an experience. On the day this reporter visited the school, the exhibit during the sharing period was a walking doll, which was demonstrated by its proud little owner.

Name Material

Mrs. Medzian asked if she might see the doll and then asked if anyone in her class could name the material of which the doll's dress was made. There were several guesses, but finally Mrs. Medzian informed the youngsters that the dress was made of net.

"And would you wear a net dress to school?" she quizzed the children.

"Oh, no," came a chorus of voices.

When the teacher asked where they would wear such a dress, youngsters answered, "to a ball or to a dance or to a party."

One little girl replied, "I would wear a net dress to a wedding."

"I like the way Mary answered the question in a complete sentence," commented Mrs. Medzian.

Well-Rounded Education

Contrary to rigid conservative thinking that only "reading, writing and arithmetic" should be taught, modern educators contend that such things as the "Share and Tell" period are necessary for a well-rounded education.

In the example here, Mrs. Medzian's children not only added a new word, "net," to their vocabulary, but also learned to participate in a group. The youngsters also were taught the use of proper grammar by listening to Mrs. Medzian's good example and by the teacher's comment on using a "complete sentence."

From 9:30 to 11 a.m. reading is on the schedule. Children are divided into three groups, "Fairies," "Elves" and "Bombers," according to their ability. Mrs. Medzian explained that she takes the slower group first because they are fresher earlier in the morning, and thus it is easier to hold their interest.

Reward Given

With the slow group, Mrs. Medzian drew a Christmas tree with huge ornaments on the blackboard. Each child who successfully read a sentence was awarded with his name in one of the ornaments.

The teacher explained that such a method is not necessary with the better readers, who are satisfied with merely performing their work.

Interesting sidelight to the teaching of reading was seen when one first grader had difficulty in reading the word, "down." Mrs. Medzian wrote "duck" and "Dick," two words the children were familian with, on the board. Then she added the word, "town," a word also known to the group.

"This word rhymes with town and has the same sound as duck and dick," explained Mrs. Medzian. The child, attuned to phonics methods, had no trouble in figuring out the word, "down."

Writing Next

Following an 11 a.m. recess, the class concentrates on writing. This subject is correlated with the season, the teacher explained.

"Children are so excited about Christmas at this time of the year it is often difficult for them to keep their minds on their work," she laughingly commented.

Examples of the Christmas season were all over the room. In one corner were examples of writing with "I would like a doll for Christmas" or "I would like a train for Christmas." The writing lessons were illustrated with pictures.

Folowing writing, number lessons are taught the youngsters. Here Mrs. Medzian uses a flannel board to illustrate her teaching. A clock is used to teach the youngsters to tell time.

Non-Restricted Learning

It was made obvious that teaching of a particular subject is not restricted to the time allocated it. In the reading lesson, for instance, children learned arithmetic by finding their page by using the table of contents.

Mrs. Medzian stressed the fact that she does not stick to a strict schedule.

"If I feel the children are tiring of a certain subject, I will switch to something else," she explained. The teacher's theory is that knowlchild indiscriminately.
edge can not be crammed into a

"I feel the most important function of a primary teacher is to develop a will to learn," she further explained.

Scheduled for the hour after the lunch period are music, literature and physical education. Subjects during the 25 minutes after 2 p.m. are alternated—one day of art, one day of science and three days of social studies.

In the first grade, children learn about home and family living or school and group living, topics known to the children through their own experience. This practice gives a youngster a foundation on which to build later education on community, state, national and world situations.

Although the school day ends for the children at 2:30 p.m., it is not so for the teacher who has lessons to prepare and work to correct.

in a sharp increase in the tax rate.

Trustee Henry Kraus said that by asking for one big loan, the district would not have to keep going back to the people for more money.

"If we keep holding elections to borrow more money it has the connotation we're not telling the people everything," Kraus said.

Weibel warned trustees that in previous experiences all authorities had advised the district not to ask for too high a sum. He suggested more study.

The board will vote on the definite amount of the loan and set date for election at their meeting next Wednesday.

City Custodian Firing Upheld By DC Board

several recreation workers said they had been "embarrassed" by Valentino on June 25 because of his failure to enforce the liquor ruling.

The council took no action Monday on the civil service board's ruling, but placed the matter in the hands of City Manager Howard Stites, who has jurisdiction over hiring and firing of city employees.

Councilman Sanford Vickers said Valentino had told him that he wasn't given sufficient notice before the public hearing, but City Attorney Frank Blum said Valentino could have asked for a continuance of the hearing had he so desired.

Valentino had worked for the city for two years.

County And State Authorities Query W'moor High Plans

this time."

"Detriment of Schools"

"Any unnecessary areas incorporated in any present building would certainly serve to the detriment of the schools which may be approved under state aided programs, which only allocate 80 square feet per pupil," the letter states. "Should the district become eligible for, or require assistance from the state, the schools built under the program will be curtailed in space to the extent that the pupils of that school will suffer by not having adequate facilities at their disposal."

Coastside residents who have appeared at high school board meetings claim that the auditorium, swimming pool, football field and other "extras" planned in the future for Westmoor will count against the district if it is forced on state aid. Coastsiders also feel that their fast growing area will be left without proper high school facilities if Westmoor is built under the present plans.

"Why Objection?"

In backing Whitney's request for county advice, Mrs. Schember asked the board Monday why they "object to an objective evaluation."

"We've convinced the county that there is no error in the planning," replied Chairman Lyal Ingersoll.

Superintendent Stanford Hannah interjected the statement that the assessed valuation of the district is predicted to double in the next five years, thus would keep the district off state aid.

"But you're using all your money for Westmoor High school," insisted Mrs. Schember. "When finished the school will show 120 square feet per child."

Hannah objected to both her statements, saying that the district was using bond money for Westmoor, and that the 120 square foot figure was erroneous. Neither he or Ciampi said they could give exact figures on the square footage.

"Outcast District"

Petersen was next to address the meeting. "There'll be nothing left over for our outcast district," was his claim.

He continued by comparing Westmoor to a Cadillac when it should be a Chevrolet, which statement was later objected to by Ciampi who said the district was getting a "Cadillac for the price of a Chevrolet."

Hannah rose to object: "I'd have something to say to your statements if it wouldn't be in the newspaper."

"If it's an honest remark, I don't see why you shouldn't say it," retorted Petersen.

"All right, I will," Hannah replied. "District bond issues have been passed by every area except Laguna Salada. We can't antagonize Westlake (where Westmoor is to be built) which has approved school bonds."

Behind Next Issue

"You can be assured our group, at least, will be behind the next bond issue," Petersen told the board.

Mrs. Schember reiterated the request that the board call in the county.

"Why didn't they come to us if they had objections?" asked Ingersoll.

Mrs. Schember replied that the district must call in the county for advice.

"Where are we going to get the money for the rest—1400 youngsters?" asked Whitney.

"Westlake people voted for Westmoor. We should give it to them," retorted Trustee Anne Eason.

"It's not whether to build Westmoor, but whether we should build it cheaper," Whitney explained.

The board refused to consider his request. Trustees will meet again next Monday night.

Council, Lagomarsino Reach Compromise On Improvements Deadline

City council and developer Rico Lagomarsino reached a compromise Monday night over length of time in which municipal improvements should be made on land sub-divided by Lagomarsino.

In a sub-division agreement drawn up by the city, Lagomarsino was given two years in which to complete improvements on land in southeastern Daly City.

Lagomarsino pleaded, however, that he might not develop the land within two years.

The council changed the wording on the deadline so that, while completion deadline was still two years, Lagomarsino could be granted an extension at the discretion of the council.

COLLEGE CITY MEN OPEN YULE TREE LOT

An unusual method of raising funds for a worthy cause made its appearance again this week at the southeast corner of 19th and Ocean avenues.

The Men's club of College City—Lakeside Presbyterian church—opened its Christmas tree lot for the second successive year at this location.

Funds from sales of trees on this lot are used to finance the club's activities and the surplus goes to the church's general fund each year.

All size trees are on display. These are placed on the lot which stays open 24 hours per day.

Members who man the lot have been given a short course in Christmas trees and how to best prepare them for use. "They expect to be in much better position to help hundreds of tree buyers get just the right one," the Men's Club said.

War Mothers Accomplish Much Good In Short Time

Editor's note: This is the third in a series of articles on local women's organizations. THE RECORD will feature each women's club listed in our files in alphabetical order.

American War Mothers, Vista Grande chapter No. 77, have accomplished a great deal to their credit since being granted their charter last March 24. Membership has increased from 23 to 30 members, and the group has raised nearly $600 for their philanthropies.

Projects of the Mothers include presenting monthly Bingo parties for veterans at Fort Miley hospital, contributing to the Mothers' Day project at Palo Alto Veterans' hospital, donating to the purchase of Lift-eez at Fort Miley, providing canteen books for the Chaplain to distribute to the needy, donating to San Fernando hospital, and giving magazine subscriptions to the new Sepulveda hospital.

Women raise money through bingo games, whist parties, luncheons, food sales and raffles.

Recent Activities

Two recent activities of the chapter were the concert and dance revue sponsored in conjunction with the Navy Career Guidance center and installation of officers.

Besides holding special events, the group meets the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at Little Italy hall, 6231 A Mission street.

The local chapter is part of the national organization began in 1917. An interesting beginning is part of the history of the American War Mothers.

According to Mrs. Chrystal Schueszler, an organization of service mothers was formed to help in the conservation of food during World War II. Mrs. Alice French of Indianapolis, who helped devise a plan for mobilizing mothers, received a letter of approval from Herbert Hoover, then National Food Conservation chairman.

Founders Day

The letter established September 29, 1917, as Founders Day of the American War Mothers. National chapter was established the following year with Mrs. French as founder and first national president.

President Woodrow Wilson granted approval to the organization, and each state governor was notified to assist the Mothers by appointing a state president.

First 12 articles of the present constitution and bylaws were written and approved by congress on February 24, 1925, and made nonamendable except by act of congress.

Mrs. Schueszler reports that prized possession of the American War Mothers is their congressional charter, signed by President Calvin Coolidge. The president also designated that the second Sunday in May be proclaimed Mothers' Day and that the sale of red and white paper carnations be accepted as the legal means of raising funds to carry on hospital and welfare work.

Member Ruling

Membership clause reads "membership is limited to women, and no woman shall be and become a member of this corporation unless she is a citizen of the United States, and unless her son or sons, daughter or daughters, of her blood, served in the Armed Forces of the United States, or its allies, in World War I, World War II, the Korean conflict, or any subsequent war or conflict, involving the United States, having an honorable discharge from service, or being still in the service."

The War Mothers have received national recognition for many of their activities. Mother Margaret McClure was the instigator of the movement to send Gold Star mothers to Europe to visit the graves of their sons. On returning from the trip, the women chose to have their own organization.

Unknown Soldier Service

Memorial service, at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier on Mothers' Day, is another child of the organization.

On Armistice Day, the Mothers' service flag flies on the staff with the nation's flag on the capitol building.

PRESIDENT'S GAVEL is handed Mrs. Chrystal Schueszler (left) by Mrs. Maybelle Toste, national hospital chairman, VAUS representative and junior past state president, at recent installation ceremonies of American War Mothers, Vista Grande chapter No. 77. The local organization is composed of 30 members who meet twice monthly and devote a large majority of their time to philanthropic work.

Most successful stamp sale ever accomplished was the American War Mothers stamp bearing the picture of Whistler's mother, according to the post office.

The organization is a member of the Veterans' Administration Voluntary service and have certified representatives in all its facilities.

Local Officers

Assisting Mrs. Schueszler in officer capacities of the local chapter are, Mesdames: Ruby Murphy, first vice president; Ann Walter, second vice president; Winifred Evans, secretary; Eleanor Wilson, treasurer; Jacoba Horning, chaplain, and Ida Siegel, historian.

Members are, Mesdames: Judith Andrew, Lorraine Blowers, Mary Conti, Josephine Cadjew, Margaret Caramagno, Catherine Foreman, Patricia Fawcett, Freda Gerberding, Maude Gilchrest.

Treva Hartling, Esther Janssen, Rose Liles, Virginia Neuman, Kate Nunziati, Daisy Olberg, Clara Poket, Agnes Prescott, Lena Pardini, Marie Pennington, Emmaline Rasmussen, Frances Stuehler, Mary Thompson and Nora Zehler.

Champagne Girls Entertain Women Pioneers Group

The Misses Cecile and Renee Champagne, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Champagne, Los Olivos avenue, Daly City and Duke Coats, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coats, Escalero avenue, Linda Mar entertained the Daughters of California Pioneers at their annual Founders Day breakfast at the Sir Francis Drake hotel, San Francisco, on Saturday.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, Pacific Manor, historian of the society and program chairman, presented the children and praised these "unusually gifted and well trained young people."

Pianist Cecile, 14, played "Thine Own" and "Silent Night" as an encore. Her ten-year-old sister Renee sang, "Suddenly There Is A Valley" and as an encore "Where Will the Baby's Dimple Be?" She was accompanied at the piano by her sister Cecile. These children received their training at the Hyers School of Music, Daly City.

Duke is a new comer to California having but recently moved to Linda Mar with his parents from Spokane, Wash. His father is associated with the Metronone School of Music in San Francisco. His first number was "The Jolly Caballero" and his encore "Melody of Love."

Hilton Kessler, head of the Metronone school, also had a part in the program and led the group in the singing of Christmas Carols, accompanied by Cecile and Duke. Duke is now a student of Edna Hyers at the newly established school of music at Sharp Park, a branch of the school in Daly City.

The musical part of the program was interspersed with a Christmas reading by Miss Emily Edgar and by Mrs. Calhan.

Markovich, Kennedy Head 'Operation Santa Claus'

Insurance Broker Peter Markovich and Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy have accepted the chairmanship of "Operation Santa Claus," announced in THE RECORD last week.

The fund drive, carried on by St. Vincent de Paul society since 1950, has been broadened this year to include toy collection. Joining forces with St. Vincent de Paul society are the Lions, Daly City Fire department, Daly City employees association, American Legion auxiliary post 410, Eagles post and auxiliary, Rotary club and Our Lady of Mercy Men's club.

Frank Tardelli is helping Chief Kennedy in the collection of toys which may be delivered to Firehouse No. 2, 499 Santa Barbara avenue, or Firehouse No. 5, 50 Lake Merced boulevard. Goal of the group is to assure at least one toy for every one of the 200 children on the list of the group.

Big problem as pointed out by Chief Kennedy is securing sufficient toys suitable for children in the age bracket of 7 to 13.

"We always have toys for those 1 to 6 years old," Chief Kennedy stated, "but we will have difficulty taking care of boys and girls above this age." Therefore we are concentrating on donations for youngsters 7 to 13, and we urge all our generous citizens to keep in mind 12 girls and 20 boys, ages 7-8; 14 girls and 20 boys, age 9; 8 girls and 10 boys, age 10; 16 girls and 10 boys, age 11; 14 girls and 14 boys, age 12 and 10 girls and 6 boys, age 13."

Chief Kennedy said the department will welcome used bicycles and tricycles in good condition but firemen will not be able to paint them this year. Donors are requested to apply a coat of paint to the vehicles if needed.

Crockerites Report

Third Grade - Mrs. M. Lorey

Mrs. Lorey's third graders are making Christmas decorations for their room. The children made a large Santa Claus by stuffing a pair of red flannel pajamas with newspaper. The head is a paper bag. Jimmy Smyser brought some cotton to school for his beard. We are making Santa's eight reindeer by drawing on large brown wrapping paper and then painting it. We are putting them across our wall.

We are going to make Santa's sleigh, too. We are also learning about Christmas in other lands. We have a map on our bulletin board and we are finding the countries on it. We found that in Mexico they have pinatas instead of trees, in Holland the children put their shoes out for Santa instead of their stockings.

Second Grade - Mrs. B. James

Our second grade is getting ready for Christmas. We have been learning Christmas songs and dances for our Christmas program which will be given on Thursday, December 15. Some of the girls will be snowflakes and some of the boys will be snowmen.

We had a lot of fun making Christmas trees for our room and for the hall decorations. We made ornaments for our little Christmas trees and covered them with snow flakes. We have also been making chains for a real Christmas tree.

Mothers Bazaar Is Termed A Success

The Mothers club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help school has just concluded one of its most successful bazaars, according to Mrs. Dorothy Carrington, president of the club, who was also general chairman of the affair.

The parrish hall was thronged with members, friends and children during the day and well into the evening.

Reports of bazaar chairmen will be given tonight (Friday) at the regular Mothers club meeting which will be held at the school auditorium at 8 p.m. The clubs annual Christmas party for the members with an exchange of gifts will be the highlight of the meeting. The members will also bring a gift of a toy or a cash donation for the St. Vincent De Paul society.

Mrs. Barbara Senkir and the third grade mothers will be in charge of the Christmas party.

Double Sessions Group Questions School Board

these, we'll still be on double sessions."

Larry Freiberg, spokesman for the citizens group, introduced David Parker, a salesman from "Classrooms, Inc.," a corporation which designs permanent and portable school classrooms out of Armco metal.

$10,000 Each

Parker explained that the units, 30 feet X 32 feet, sell for $10,000 each, are guaranteed for 20 years and require "almost no maintenance."

They can be either purchased outright or used on a lease basis, with a three-year minimum lease. Approximate lease terms, the salesman said, would be $258 a month the first year, $245 the second, $233 the third, $115 the fourth and $110 the final year.

According to Parker, the units can be installed and ready for use in 45 days.

Freiberg asked what the cost per classroom was at Ben Franklin and David Shapiro, business manager, estimated $20,000.

Shapiro asked, "Since Ben Franklin will be done in January, 1957, do you think it would be worthwhile to buy several of these buildings just to take us off double sessions for three months."

Several members of the audience expressed doubt that Franklin would be completed on the scheduled date.

Penalize District

One argument against the purchase of the portable buildings was that they would count as classroom space under the state fund apportionment program, and would thereby jeopardize the district's chances for state aid.

Frieberg said the citizens committee had reached no conclusion over purchase of the portable classrooms, but was just making one suggestion to alleviate the double sessions problem.

Trustees took no action on the proposal.

In other business Wednesday night the board:

1. Held under submission two bids for supplying a ¾ ton truck to the district, rejected one bid in the amount of $6426.25 for supplying a bookkeeping machine, and recommended awarding of contract to K. C. Martin Co. for installing sidewalks around Colma school at a price of $3214.46, or 28 cents per square foot.

2. Passed resolution of acceptance for property at 372 Santa Barbara, purchased for $5000.

3. Hired Robert Hale, Laguna Salada school district trustee, as inspector for Benjamin Franklin project at maximum salary of $600 per month.

Pay PTAs Money

4. Approved allocating money to be paid PTAs for their aid in a house-to-house survey to gain information for a county-wide school survey.

5. Accepted resignations of teachers Marion Truscelli, Margaret Brown and Eleanore Staszak and hired Shirley Strasburger.

6. Called for competitive quotations for replacing heaters at 344 Santa Barbara avenue, estimated to cost $1165.

It was revealed that Monday night the city council will fill the two vacancies on the commission, created by resignation of Victor Baher and Thomas Laramie. Present at Tuesday's meeting were commissioners Edmund Cavagnaro, Ann Eason and Mrs. Gordon Carlson.

Health Site Cost Held County Duty

a county function by state law," said Stites. "It would not be fair to ask people in this city to contribute taxes toward purchase of a site when they are already helping carry the burden for health services in unincorporated areas."

Although no vote was taken on the proposal that the county acquire the site, there was no dissension against the plan.

Clinic First Import

On the topic of a major hospital, proposed last week by Wilson, the committee felt that regardless of any plans in this direction, the county welfare clinic was still of first importance.

The committee also questioned whether there was a real need here for a hospital. Linn, a director on the Sequoia hospital district, said the hospital was self-supporting, but Stites corrected him by pointing out that the district was being taxed 19½ cents per $100 for redemption of bonds sold to construct the building.

Stites was of the opinion that, "We shouldn't have a publicly owned hospital if it's at all possible to obtain a private one."

Corpus Christi Whist

Corpus Christi church will hold its monthly whist party on Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the church hall, corner of Santa Rosa avenue and Alemany boulevard.

Lumber accounts for 60 per cent of the wood used in the United States.

Being informed by Linn that a special state agency was available for surveying the area's hospital needs, the committee was unanimous in calling for the survey. "When the needs are determined, then we can make our next move," Stites related.

Down, 17-1, At Quarter, Jeff Cagers Fail To Catch Tam

A 17-1 first quarter deficit was too much to overcome as Jefferson High school varsity basketball club was turned back by Tamalpais, 53-42, in the season debut Tuesday on the winners court.

Tamalpais' win over the local varsity was their fourth straight. The Tams forward, Claude Curley, and center, Wayne Kennedy, were the thorn in the Indians side as Curley pumped in 17 points, while Kennedy dominated the backboards.

A disastrous first quarter, in which Coach Mike Orlich's charges mixed six consecutive lay-ups on well-executed plays, put the Jeffs in the hole to stay. Jim Honeywell, Larry Pottenger and Bill Curtis took turns muffing sure two-pointers as they apparently tightened under the pressure.

Close The Gap

At half-time the Indians trailed, 37-12, but closed the gap to 46-32 in the third session and continued to accelerate their play in the second half but couldn't overtake Tamalpais.

Orlich used a total of 12 players, but Darrell Hutchenson, Ray Schultz, Curtis, Honeywell and Pottenger got to see the most action. The Jeffs probably will form the Giammona's club, which finished second in PAL competition last year, boasts a little more bench strength this year, according to Giammona, with eight or nine players of equal ability.

The Jefferson varsity will leave the 30s home today (Friday) when they travel to Hayward for an In-vitational tournament which lasts two days.

Next Wednesday the two Jefferson teams will take on Balboa on the home courts and follow up with another home practice game on Friday against Sonora.

Both clubs were scheduled to meet Lincoln of San Francisco yesterday.

Westlake Takes Over DC Bowling

Westlake Homes took over first place in Daly City-Colma Bowling league Tuesday night at Brentwood, scoring three straight wins over Carlos Pizzeria.

Vince & Fred, who shared the lead last week, failed to keep pace as they captured a pair of games from Daly City Cleaners.

It was team effort that led the Westlakers to their triple victory. However, emerging tops for the club was Dick Keefer's evening high game of 224 and high series of 479. He was aided by Rudy Alholm, 521 series, Stan White, 201 game, 506 series, and Hank Amstutz 505 series.

The three wins brought Westlake's standings to 25-14, against 24-15 for the V & F gang.

Lloyd Selmi's 535 series and Babe De Luca's 531 trio helped the tavern men turn in two wins over the Cleaners.

San Pedro Lunch held on to third place, 23116, with a double victory over Thur Meat. Dell Fehl, 202 game, 523 series, Al Wright, 523 series, and Otto Schramm, 515 series, turned the trick for San Pedro.

Luce Meat broke their long slump by defeating Paul's Flowers three times to regain fourth place with 22-17.

Tony Barsugalia and B. Rocchetta, 515 and 501 series, respectively, led the two teams.

Starway Cocktails downed Brentwood Lodge two games as D. Wills posted high series of 524.

$8F MAN HELD ON CHARGES OF PASSING BAD CHECK HERE

A 33-year-old South San Francisco man was arraigned in municipal court yesterday on charge of passing a bad check at Millett's Auto Court, 7700 Mission street, on September 7 of this year.

According to motel manager, Catherine Gerrans, Paul McHale, 126 Buxton avenue, came to the motel on September 7 and asked to cash a $100 check to pay the $4 for one night's rent. She accepted the check and gave him $96 in cash for change.

Despite repeated promises to make good the worthless check, McHale failed to do so, according to Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage.

McHale pleaded not guilty and preliminary hearing was set for December 20.

Jeff Gridders Were Among N. Cal's Best

Daly City's Jefferson High school varsity football team was ranked 21st among northern California's more than 200 prep grid teams, according to a rating system released this week by Dennis Lee of Salinas.

Teams were ranked by an index that is determined by the margin of victory (or defeat) and the strength of the opponent.

A win was worth from five to 10 points, a loss from one to five points.

Oroville was ranked first with a rating index of 8.9, while Lincoln of San Jose, PAL champions, were placed seventh with an 8.6 standing. Jefferson was ranked at 7.7. The Daly City team won six, lost three games during the just concluded season.

CITY SETS $50 FEE ON STREET VACATION

Persons who file for vacation of a portion of a public street will have to pay all filing and publishing costs involved, the council ruled Monday night.

While the council was considering an application to vacate a portion of Albion street, City Manager Howard Stites reminded councilmen that cost of publishing the notice of hearing and other expenses were borne by the city. "This street vacation is done for the applicant and not for the city and yet you have to pay for it," the manager related.

Councilmen unanimously approved a fee of $50 to process all such street vacation applications.

Hearing on the Albion street vacation was set for December 27.

Farm Hoop League Now Being Formed

The Daly City recreation department's Third Annual Basketball Farm league, which has enjoyed tremendous popularity in the past, is now in the process of organization. All high school youngsters who reside in the Jefferson Union High School district are eligible to compete, provided they have never played on a high school varsity or 130 pound exponent squad in league competition.

This year's league promises to be the best ever, with eight teams tentatively scheduled to meet in a single round robin tournament, according to the department. Starting date for the first contest will be Tuesday. Two games will be played each evening. The first at 7:30 and the night cap at 8:30 o'clock.

Any boy who meets the above requirements and wishes to compete may do so by calling the community center, PL. 5-1882.

21-Team Rec Basketball League Debuts At Center

Daly City recreation department's 21-team Invitational Basketball league opened Saturday at the Daly City community center with 10 games.

In the A division St. Gabriel's, winners of the invitational tournament a week earlier, displayed power as they overwhelmed Brisbane, 44-3. Scott, Sinclaire and Schroff paced the winners.

The St. Gabriel's Gulls breezed by Lincoln playground, 46-6, as Jim Reade tanked 29 for the victors.

In other A division contests:

Laguna Salada turned in a 28-20 win over St. Michael's; Broadmoor Hawks rallied from an 18-6 deficit to top St. Stephen's, 24-20, as Jim Heick hit eight markers; OLPH, defending A league champs, crushed Broadmoor Comets, 29-13, as H. Wismans potted 11 for the church club.

St. Gabriel's also proved impressive in the B division, as they clobbered OLPH, 45-22. Mahoney tanked 18 for the winners, Mike Kennedy 14 for the losers, St. Gabriel's annexed the B circuit tourney the previous week.

Other B results:

HOUSEWIFE SUFFERS HEAD CUT, COPS SAY

A 44-year-old housewife was treated at Junipero Sera hospital for head injuries after police rushed her there from a Mission street bar Thursday night.

Officers were first called by the husband of Mrs. W. Drobshoff, 1131 Hanover street, who reported his wife's injury. Seconds later police received a call from tavern employees.

Mrs. Drobshoff suffered a 1½ inch cut on the head, police said.

Honeywell Wins More Grid Honors

Jefferson High school's phenomenal quarterback Jim Honeywell, already brimming over with honors, was accorded further glory this week when two metropolitan newspapers selected him to All-Northern California prep teams, one of them naming him Northern Cal "back of the year."

Honeywell won a first string post on one paper's All-Northern Cal team and was selected back of the year for his amazing versatility, his astronomic number of yards gained, 1350, and number of points scored, 84.

The other publication named Honeywell to a second-string post on All-Northern California, and first string honors on the All-North Coast club.

DC Resident Reports $340 Burglary To Cops

A loss of $340 has been reported to police by Richard H. Hage, 374 Crocker avenue, who claims that burglars took the money sometime between November 28 and December 3.

The money was taken from two piggy banks and a manila envelope, Hage said.

Thieves Take 4 Birds From Local Pet Store

Two pair of "zebra finches" were stolen from the Daly City pet shop on Mission street Tuesday afternoon. Clerk L. Martin told police that the theft occurred while he was in a back room with a customer between 4 and 4:15 p.m.

Martin said he noticed two teen-agers in the shop while he was in the back room, but when he returned to the front of the store, both the boys and the birds were gone.

The finches were valued at $5 each.

BOY, 10, STARTS FIRE IN HIS HOME

A 45-year-old Daly City housewife was treated for smoke inhalation at Junipero Serra hospital after she attempted to douse a fire started by her 10-year-old son.

Mrs. James Workman, 230 Santa Barbara avenue, told firemen that her youngster had set a bed afire while playing with matches. Her attempts to quench the flames were unsuccessful so she called the fire department.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy said no serious damage resulted. He also declared that the 10-year-old culprit hid at firemen's arrival, but that firemen planned on reprimanding him at a later date.
